Kyle Chen

1. It will read as many whitespace characters as it can, until it reaches the end or gets a non-whitespace char.
2. To keep the user Input/Output logic within the CalculatorRun() function.
3. This lab took about an hour. Difficulty was as expected. In some of the initial builds there were extra characters whenever I put in an operator, there may have been some issue with text encoding but it went away randomly.